Dear Aniket

That is great to hear. Very interesting what you have sent. Do you mind starting to write the report up as you read and keep a structure which is roughly what we discussed last. Affordable housing in selected countries and best practises. Also, some studies on the social rental market (as you have already found) and discuss the comparison between rent or own. Finally, we need to talk about each of the housing schemes in the UK with their pros and cons and some descriptive data.

Best

Dear Stani,

You can absolutely count on me for the paper. I have been a bit occupied and stressed because I have a six month probation review meeting this Wednesday. Happy to work on it after the meeting is done.

I have dug up a bit on social housing on Europe since we last spoke. There is a rather exhaustive issue in Critical Housing Analysis on social housing in Europe. It seems to have very promising articles looking at various countries in Europe.

There is also Christine Whitehead at LSE. She seems to have a lot of work this.

There are also some references - mainly books - that I collected when I was looking at it. The list is below.

Best wishes,
Aniket

Dear Aniket

Could I count you in when writing up the white paper on affordable housing. We need to start writing this as soon as possible. Can you let me know your thoughts on that.

Thanks
