Hi Stani,

Sorry for the delay in responding – it has indeed been quite busy lately esp. due to turning around marking for IF2.

I must admit I was caught a bit off guard by the proposed new topic as this was not part of our discussions the last time we met.

I agree that blockchain is a catchy theme and very popular these days but I'm not entirely convinced (based on my arguably limited knowledge on the topic) that it is useful for infrastructure investment.

I am of course fully open to further discussion in order to understand what your rationale is.

My suggestion would be to look for a time during reading week for the four of us to meet (i.e. including D'Maris who appears to be well-versed in cryptoassets and blockchain) so that we determine the way forward.

Regards,
Aris

Dear both

I haven't received any response from you yet, so I wanted to check if you have received my email?

I understand it's a busy time – could you let me know more or less when we can talk about that and when I expect feedback about it?

I am happy to proceed but I do not want this to be a unitary decision.

Best
Stani
