Dear D'Maris,

Just following up on the email yesterday to say that the details I wanted to talk about once the references are done and I get the formal offer is more about what I would do over the course of the year and how I would fit into CPM. Things like how you would like me to get involved with the conference etc. The details did not refer to terms of the job. The terms of the job you described in the email are very very generous and I am delighted with it.

I went down with the fairly severe stomach bug yesterday and have been in bed for the last two days. So, my head was very foggy when I wrote the email yesterday. I thought I would clarify in case my email yesterday was not entirely clear.

Best wishes,
Aniket
